Vessel/5th Realm (V5R)

Points (H) 4.00-4.99, (L) 5.00

Influential, honorable, unassuming, wise, empowered

Overview - One who focuses on meeting other people's needs without expectation of recognition or personal benefit, and who knows how to successfully achieve goals using success principles.

Strengths - Serene, steady, compassionate, influential, confident, wise, patient, experienced, calm, knowledgeable, intelligent, sensible.

Driven by - Principle, serving others, subtlety, and having a long term life's purpose vision, focused on truth.

Combination Analysis - You're experienced in learning how to be unaffected by the unstable moods and opinions of others. You've accessed the power that comes through loss of self, of keeping your ego in check, and are evolving beyond the need to be seen.

While the Exemplar serves for the joy of making a difference, the Vessel serves mainly to fill a need. You find uncommon joy in doing hard things, and even if you are well known and respected, you are equally content to be of no public consequence. As you put others first in wisdom without compromising your own personal autonomy, you access a level of fulfillment and satisfaction that many will never find.

You are a compassionate and patient wellspring of healing for others who are inspired and changed by your confidence in true principles. You are generous yet wise in your interactions with others, long-suffering in outcomes, and trust that ultimate good can be realized out of any circumstance.

You are aware of the things that trigger you, but choose not to be controlled by them. Like a vessel bringing water to one who is thirsty, you participate in causes but are inclined to avoid recognition. After all, it is the water, not the vessel that quenches, is praised and appreciated, and you know your place in the grand scheme of things. You have become so others-focused that even the thrill of making a difference is no longer needed nor expected. The good news is that in living life unfettered in this way: clear in spirit and pure in heart, you will always have access to the rare rewards of true joy and serenity. You dwell in calmness beneath the tempests, and soar above the storms in stillness.

You have moved beyond intentional goal achievement to a place of being at one with God's purposes, and only employing those skills when your life's purpose or divine mission assignment calls for it. The skill is not used for self-gratification beyond meeting your own needs, but it is readily utilized for serving others in their needs. You're still conscious of where you fall short in the consistent application of true principles, but have learned how to rely on a power bigger than yourself to fill in the gaps and make up for your shortcomings.

No goal is too big, no cause too impossible to keep you from doing what you were put here to do. You learn from your mistakes more quickly than in the past, and forge ahead with both patience, temperance, and courage. You know that you've participated in miracles.

At this stage of development, you no longer measure success in influence and legacy, but in the real impact and improvement enjoyed by those you serve. You're now more interested in their influence, and in their legacy. You experience a oneness with God or Nature which guides your thoughts and actions to align with His will or the most Elevated Purpose in all things.

As for yourself, you are less focused now on what you can gain on the path; you've shifted to a place where you are more interested in what you can release both materially and emotionally, and in the experiences through which you pass for how they change you. Needs are few for a person in this realm, but all needs are naturally met with ease for those who live here.

You dwell in calmness beneath the tempests, and soar above the storms in stillness.

You consistently rely on the laws, unseen help, and divine power to help you overcome every obstacle. You are more consciously aware now when you experience its assistance, and despite the natural ups and downs that continue to give life meaning, your existence in general feels more purposeful, fulfilling, and joyful than ever.

Other Common Attributes:

- You accept yourself, others, and situations the way they are and the way they are not.
- You embrace your life with joy and effectively resolve guilt and shame.
- You've learned to manage trepidation when facing things that are different or unknown.
- You view life as it unfolds both logically and rationally, while embracing the possibilities for extraordinary outcomes.
- You enjoy finding solutions to real-world situations and helping others improve their lives.
- You tend to be very independent. You don't conform to other people's ideas of happiness and contentment, but you're willing to listen.
- You value your privacy and enjoy solitude. You love the company of others, but it is essential to the discovery and cultivating of your own potential to have time alone.
- You have a good sense of humor and have the ability to laugh at yourself.
- You are able to enjoy the humor in situations that may be challenging for others.
- You follow generally accepted social expectations and don't feel confined by those norms in your thoughts or behaviors.
- You enjoy setting new goals for yourself, but you don't see the path of achievement as a means to an end. The journey is just as important and enjoyable as accomplishing the desired result.
- You accept your quirks and imperfections without feeling embarrassed or apologetic.
- You have experience staying true to your core values, even in environments that challenge them.
- You tend to take life's inevitable ups and downs with grace, acceptance, and equanimity.
- You have a genuine desire to help humanity.
- You readily recognize that you might perceive things that may not be true.
- You often have experiences in which you feel a profound transcendence of your petty concerns.
- You take full responsibility for your actions without pointing the finger at others.
- You can tell 'deep down' right away when you've done something wrong and you commit quickly to making it right.
- When people get upset with you, you engage with concern and curiosity to see how you can assist them with feeling better.

Possible Blind Spots - Despite how well you performed on the test, there is still room to grow. The minute you think you have achieved the pinnacle, you will begin to decline, so always be about further learning and growth, or turn your focus to teaching and showing others how to enjoy for themselves what you have achieved. Help others achieve it more quickly by allowing them to learn from your experiences and mistakes. Don't become so refined that you are unwilling to share your errors, show your flaws, and how you overcame them. Because you've come this far having grown so much, individuals at this stage of development may struggle with being teachable.

One who grows beyond the Vessel/5th Realm stage of development will attest to the following:

"We must get to the point in our lives... To become a new kind of man or woman, having inner command and outer excellence." —Vernon Howard

"Only one who devotes himself to a cause with his whole strength and soul can be a true master. For this reason mastery demands all of a person." - Albert Einstein
